

Changing your address

THERE are loads of good reasons to do this. Identity fraudsters can use letters going to an old address, the DVLA can fine you up to £1,000 if you don't change your car's paperwork and more than £500m of Premium Bond prizes remain unclaimed.

Research shows that telling everyone of a change of address takes 20 phone calls and letters – around five hours of work. But www.iammoving.com in association with the Royal Mail allows users to notify 1,500 contacts from one website in around 20 minutes.
